

To Whom It May Concern,

Avonline plc have been using the services of Signs Now for the last 6 years. During this time they have undertaken all of our company fleet graphics work- some 500 vehicles, including a re-branding. The nature of this work means that we need our vehicles branded as soon as we get them. From instruction, they react with great speed and professionalism. They have also produced many different company signs and stickers offering a complete design and fabrication service.

I would have no hesitation in recommending the services of Signs Now.
